About Autonomy

Sheth NKTT College has been conferred with autonomous status in September 2023 by the University Grants Commission. Colleges with autonomous status have the authority to design their own curricula, conduct examinations, and evaluate students independently, while still being affiliated with a university. Autonomous status provides colleges with greater academic freedom and flexibility to innovate in their teaching and research methodologies.

With autonomy the college can now design its own curriculum, research programs, and teaching methodologies. Autonomy allows us to streamline administrative processes, respond more effectively to changing needs, and implement policies tailored to their unique circumstances.

We can focus on improving the quality of education and research, leading to better outcomes for students, faculty, and the community.

The college can promote innovation and entrepreneurship by facilitating collaborations with industry.

Autonomy can help the college to become more competitive internationally by enabling us to forge partnerships with leading institutions, attract top talent, and participate in global research. We can now better engage with their local communities, addressing regional needs and contributing to economic and social development.

Overall, autonomy status has empowered the college to fulfill its missions more effectively, benefiting students, faculty, staff, researchers, policymakers, and society at large. The process of autonomy will be implemented for all UG and PG programmes run by the college in the following manner:
